

Dear FCC Representative,

I have learned that you have created an exemption to the Do-Not-Call registry that allows TV and radio stations to call me to ask me to tune in to specific shows.

I do not like this exemption. These broadcast ad calls are just as annoying and intrusive as direct sales calls.

Also, to assume these calls are not sales calls is nieve. The caller wants me to listen to their scheduled program so that I will also be subject to listen to the ads they are broadcasting as well.

I feel that this exemption is a large loophole that defeats the entire purpose of the Do-Not-Call registry and should be rethought, then changed.

Thank you for your time,

Joanne Weaver
